

Team Contract

Connor Derrick and Taylor Cox

Communication: We will primarily communicate through text messages. We will keep all project documents in a shared Google Drive folder and Github repository which allows us to see each other working and allows for easy commenting and editing. We promise to respond to each other within 24 hours of a message being delivered. In-person meetings will be held as needed and communicated at least 48 hours in advance. As we have nearly identical schedules, that should provide sufficient notice.

Leadership: Rock/Paper/Scissors. Loser buys lunch. Winner gets the A. (This is a joke, we're roommates, we have learned to compromise)

Motivation: Motivation is an important part of any successful group. Positive encouragement and honest criticism are a proven way to boost morale. Also the main focus of our group is collaboration towards clear and set goals.

Accountability: Holding each other accountable is the best way to maintain a high quality of output. Making sure we deliver strong and manageable ideas as a group is paramount to the lasting impact of our group project. Therefore, we agree to uphold total honesty with each other and maintain an open mindset when exposed to new ideas.

Other Expectations: We agree to be honest with each other regarding opinions on ideas and how to bring them into fruition.
